

MASTERCLASS SONG & OPERA

LECTURE:

Prof. Julie Kaufmann, Professor of Voice at the University of the Arts Berlin and recipient of the Bavarian Order of Merit.

Prof. Donald Sulzen (UNFORTUNATELY SICK),
Head of the Lieder Department at the University of Music and Theater Munich (2011-2022).

The internationally acclaimed American coloratura soprano, KS Julie Kaufmann, concluded her career as a sought-after opera, lieder, and concert singer in 2011 after 35 years. Her partner at the piano, Donald Sulzen, has accompanied and continues to accompany some of the world's most celebrated singers, such as Julie Kaufmann, Anna Caterina Antonacci, Laura Aikin, Doris Soffel, Thomas E. Bauer, and James Taylor. These two artists have performed together as a duo for 25 years and have given more than 100 concerts in Europe and the USA.

In this masterclass, they aim to shed light on the art of performing as a duo. Technical aspects such as dynamic balance, articulation, phrasing, style, as well as the relationship between text and music will be discussed. Furthermore, the psychological aspects of teamwork and the importance of healthy dialogue in rehearsal situations will be addressed. Opera repertoire is also part of the course, allowing for a focus on the art of opera accompaniment.

Prof. Julie Kaufmann will teach the course by herself with priority on singing.
